Tartars in Shape For Leuzinger Fray

Coch Cliff Graybehl and his Terrible Tartar Tribe will have it at again beginning at 8 p.m. tomorrow, when the Leuzinger Olympians pull onto the Torrance stadium for their annual football classic.

For the Tartars it will be a chance to get back a little prestige after the 54-0 trouncing suffered at Inglewood last Friday evening.

For the Olympians it will be a matter of maintaining the stature gained last week when they whitewashed the Redondo team 13-0.

Torrance should win the game, but it won't be an easy one. The Leuzinger gang has some talented ball handlers and their T-formation plays will bear watching.

Charlie Camou and Chic Cope, two backfield regulars, were still on the doubtful list in the coaching office here yesterday. Both are fighting leg injuries. Camou's since the beginning of the season. Cope from the Inglewood game. Camou is one of the finest safety men in the league and his loss to the team

Gray Injured, Sentinel Doctor Has Only Tape

By REID BUNDY

Indignation of Torrance rooters rose to fever pitch last Friday night as Bill Gray, first string guard for the Tartars, lay on the sidelines at the Inglewood game with a painfully injured arm. The indignation rose when the doctor assigned to the game by the home team told the Torrance coaches he had nothing but a roll of tape.

Gray, whose left arm was amputated two years ago when he fell beneath the wheels of a train, was injured in the game against the Inglewood Sentinels at Sentinel Field in Inglewood.

A call for the Inglewood team doctor was put out over the public address system at the game. After he had visited the Torrance bench twice to check Gray, a call for a Torrance doctor was put out over the amplifier and Dr. Howard Wood, a spectator at the game, went not anticipating a call at the game, had no equipment with him.

A call for a doctor from the stands then went out over the P. A. system and an Inglewood doctor who had been watching the game sent someone to his car for his kit. He administered a sedative to Gray and the injured griddler was put in Jack King's car and taken to the Torrance Memorial Hospital where Dr. Rodney Stetson was called in to examine him.

Gray was later released from the hospital and turned out for football practice Monday afternoon although his arm was still quite sore. Dr. Stetson said that he should be able to play recurrence of injuries received last week against Oxnard, and that he should be able to play by Friday.

SMITH MOVED UP

Coch Cliff Graybehl announced Monday that Burt Smith had been moved up from the B squad to perform in the varsity backfield.

It is hard to replace. Cope is one of the most consistent line backers the Tartars have had for some time.

Gray, who was injured in the last two games when his left arm, which has been amputated above the elbow, was painfully bruised, reports that he is ready to battle them again.

"Outside of Gray and Cope, we came through the game with no injuries," Graybehl reported.

Kickoff time tomorrow is 8 o'clock. General admission price is 50 cents, students are admitted for a special price at the student gate if they present their Associated Student Body cards.

Olymps Break Jinx, Blank Redondo 13-0

The Leuzinger Olympians pulled the season's first major upset last Friday night when they blanked the Redondo Seahawks 13-0 before a sell-out crowd at the Redondo stadium.

Both teams showed no offensive power, but the difference in scoring was attributed to the strong Leuzinger line.

Both Leuzinger t.d.s came on Hawk fumbles. Just before the first half ended, Dick Lindner picked up a fumble in the Hawk backfield and scooted 43 yards to pay dirt.

In the third quarter, the Olympians recovered another Hawk fumble on the Hawks' three-yard stripe, but were held out in four tries at the goal. A short punt by Redondo kept the Olympians in the game however, and a 19-yard pass from Don Bevans to Hank Bojorquez turned the trick.

The win for the Olympians ended a jinx that had plagued them since they entered the Bay League. It was the first win they ever chalked up at the expense of the Hawks. It was also their first league win of the season, as they dropped their opener to Inglewood the week before.

The Olympians will be gunning for their second win here tomorrow night, as they visit the Tartars here.
